Teays Valley Bond Vote Is Challenged

Approval of the $1,760,000 school bond issue in Teays Valley School District has been challenged.

Five residents have called for a recount of the narrow, 1,539 to 1,500 vote approving the issuance of bonds to build a new consolidated high school building.

The recount is set for 7:30 p. m. today in the offices of the Board of Elections.

Five residents of Teays Valley School District have requested a recount of eight of the district's 11 county precincts. Chairman of the committee which requested the recount is Rennie Sowers, Route 2, Ashville, a resident of Walnut East precinct.

The petition calls for a recounting of the following precincts, in order: Harrison Twp., Ashville East, South Bloomfield, Scioto Twp. North, Scioto Twp. South, Ori net, Commercial Point, and Madison Twp.

Present for the recount will be Elections Board members: Ted Corcoran, Ned Dresbach, Milton Manson and George Fissell; the chairman of the committee demanding the recount, Sowers; and the president of the Teays Valley Board of Education, Harold Hines.

A DEPOSIT of $10 for each precinct to be recounted was made by Sowers as security for the payment of charges for making the recount.

Other petitioners are Ray E. Huffer, Route 2, Ashville, Walnut East precinct; Porter Martin,

Ohio GOP Asks For Specifics On Special Call

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Republican spokesman asked Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today to be specific if he wants GOP help in a special legislative session to extend the jobless benefit payment period because of unemployment.

The governor has said he would call a special session this year to lengthen the benefit period from 26 to 39 weeks if Republicans would assure him enough votes needed for emergency enactment.

After an exchange of letters, Rep. Roger Cloud, R-Logan, House minority leader, said GOP representatives would want answers to these questions before taking a stand on an extender bill:

"What is the degree of 'extraordinary' emergency which you have said now exists that would warrant enacting legislation some four or five weeks before the regular session of 1961 convenes (Jan. 2)?

"No other state has proposed a similar action for the remainder of this year. Is Ohio, then, in the throes of a much worse economic situation than other states, and if so, why?

"What is the present condition of the (unemployment compensation) trust fund and would there be required an adjustment upward of the unemployment insurance tax rates if a bill which you may propose were to be enacted?"

Cloud also mentioned that a 13-week benefit extender enacted in 1958 and renewed to run through 1959 had generated suggestions for a "trigger clause" that would automatically lengthen the benefit period when Ohio unemployment claims reached 6 per cent of "covered" workers.

The petitioners did not call for recount of Walnut East, Walnut West and Ashville West precincts as well as four other overlapping precincts (Circleville Twp., two in Fairfield County, and one in Franklin County).

New Orleans Set For Long 'Recess'

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A school recess for a week, starting Monday, today promised a breathing spell for New Orleans in the bitter battle over integration.

The recess was announced late Thursday night by Dr. James F. Redmond, public school superintendent. It will permit teachers to attend teacher association meetings in Baton Rouge Monday through Wednesday. Pupils will observe Thanksgiving holidays Thursday and Friday and classes will not resume until Nov. 28.

The New Orleans School Board Thursday asked suspension of a federal court order directing school integration.

The suspension plea was filed after four days of tension over admission last Monday of four small Negro girls to two white schools. Unruly demonstrations, sporadic violence and an almost complete boycott by white students of two schools involved.

U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright who signed the integration order, has overridden several moves by the legislature to halt racial mixing.

The three-judge panel which includes Wright, also is expected to hear two other cases involving New Orleans schools.

One is Wright's order restraining the legislature and top state officials from interfering with the integration move. The other is a contempt citation. Wright issued against Shelby M. Jackson, state superintendent of education. The judge said a school holiday ordered last Monday by Jackson, the effective date of the integration order, was contemptuous interference.

The plea for suspension, filed Thursday by Samuel Rosenberg, school board attorney, was for time to let tempers cool and a return to segregated school pending a decision on issues on which the board said the Supreme Court should rule.

Publisher Is Jailed for Bank Holdups

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A country newspaper publisher and former banker arrested here Thursday on charges of robbing two Texas banks remained in jail today in lieu of $50,000 bond.

"I have no way of making that bond," Lawrence C. Pope, 42, said when arraigned on charges of robbing the First State Bank of Thornton of $1,744 on Nov. 5 and the Farmers State Bank of Shulenburg of $4,800 in cash and $11,000 in government bonds last Saturday.

Pope surrendered when FBI agents, acting on a tip from an unidentified woman, raided his motel room here.

Pope, who had been a banker in several Texas cities and a federal bank examiner before buying weekly newspapers at the small towns of Giddings and Lexington last month, told officers he threw away the pistol used in the robberies.

He said he also threw away the photographic films exposed during the holdups. Employees of the banks said the robber forced them to disrobe partly, then took pictures with a small camera before fleeing.

Chillicothe Educator Dies

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Superintendent of Chillicothe schools, Ellis B. Hutton, 57, died today after suffering a heart attack early this morning.

Ashville East — 222 yes, 155 no; South Bloomfield — 52 yes, 105 no; Harrison Twp. — 266 yes, 209 no; Madison Twp. — 178 yes, 107 no; Commercial Point — 65 yes, 68 no; Orient — 57 yes, 51 no; Scioto Twp. North — 70 yes, 32 no; Scioto Twp. South — 201 yes, 202 no.

Teays Valley District Voters turned down the bond issue twice before. In November 1959 the bond issue was defeated 1,274 to 640. In May of this year it was 997 negative votes to 801 affirmative votes.

Spunky Enters Old Ohio Pen

couraged new demonstrations against integration Thursday. But police arrested 32 Negroes for various offenses Thursday night. One was charged with slashing a white man on the shoulder during a fight. Twenty two of those arrested were juveniles and seven of their number were picked up after rocks were thrown at passersby and cars.

Over a third of the city's elementary school population of 37,726 remained away from classes Thursday. School officials attributed their absence to fear by parents who did not want to send their children out on the streets.

Sentences Add Up To 4 Lifetimes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gordon (Spunky) Firman is just a number today at Ohio Penitentiary. But the number on his back is insignificant compared to the number of years he has to serve.

If he serves the maximum penalty he was given, without time off it'll be the year 2177 before Spunky walks out a free man. But it's doubtful he'll be breathing then, much less walking. He'd be 238 years old.

When he entered the penitentiary Thursday, dressed in a tattered sweater and slacks and sporting a three-day growth of beard, the 21-year-old Firman was asked if he had added up the total of his sentences.

"Yeah," he replied, "life."

Three or four lifetimes would be more exact. Ohio's summertime "public enemy No. 1" drew a maximum of 217 years in being sentenced in four counties for crimes ranging from kidnapping and armed robbery to grand larceny and jail breaking.

That latter incident, jail breaking, was the start of a month-long crime wave that rocked southern Ohio.

Spunky broke out of the Coshocton County jail July 26 with three other prisoners. All except Firman were recaptured a short time later. The one-man crime wave didn't call it quits until he was shot and wounded near Sherrodsville in Carroll County exactly one month to the day later.

During that period, Spunky kidnapped five people, committed at least two armed robberies and several burglaries, stole enough vehicles to open up a used car lot, choked a woman when she refused him food, and capped it all by breaking back into the jail from which he escaped and freeing a con.

U.S. Farmers Get Warning On Livestock Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—Renewed advice against over-expansion of production of meat animals was going out to farmers from the Agriculture Department today.

State farm economists and educators attending the department's annual outlook conference have been told that producers should be alert to the "serious depressing effect that may be exerted on prices if production continues to outrun population growth."

Earl E. Miller, department livestock economist, said in a talk that cattle prices are expected to decline further next year under

Rapid-Fire Raids in Dayton Crush Ring of Dope Peddlers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A series of rapid-fire raids here has netted three alleged members of a narcotics ring which police say was doing an $11,000-a-week business in central and southern Ohio.

Officers said two other ring members were already in jail before the raid were tagged Thursday night.

Also rounded up were 16 suspected drug addicts 14 with police records. A shot was fired in one raid when a suspect tried to get away but no one was hit.

The five accused narcotics salesmen were among eight Daytonians indicted by a grand jury Thursday on a total of 30 counts of violating state narcotics laws.

The roundup climaxed two months of undercover work by two Cincinnati police officers and a federal narcotics agent.

Officers Paul Allen, 39, and James Childress, 40, of the Cincinnati Vice Control Bureau, together with the federal agent, had been in Dayton's West Side since last September.

Allen posed as a fugitive mail thief and narcotics user. He purchased "cut" heroin from suspects with marked money.

Lt. Richard C. Grundish, who headed the 10-man raiding party of Dayton detectives, said police here asked for the Cincinnati undercover men because "our officers are too well known and the subjects were in narcotics work."

The Cincinnati officers and the federal agent managed to work their way into the West Side narcotics pushers' inner circle, Grundish said.

They reported that some $2,000 worth of heroin was being sent each week to Cincinnati, another $1,500 worth going to other central and southern Ohio cities and $7,500 worth being sold in Dayton.

Grundish said the raids ended the ring's narcotics traffic in Dayton, Cincinnati, Columbus, Hamilton, Middletown, Springfield and Xenia.

Indicted and arrested Thursday night were Joseph H. Ramey, 28; Charles L. Hicks, 33, and Inman Kennamore, 35.

Also indicted and already in jail were Robert C. Ramey, 20, and Charles Edward Goff, 23.

Also indicted, but at last report not yet apprehended, were Thomas H. Hanks, alias Jones, 26; Leon Windley, 23, and James Turner, 35.

Grundish said all eight had previous arrest records for narcotics law violations.

Anti-Red Plan Labeled Prelude To 'Attack'

Opponents To Move Say Invasion Slated On Castro's Island

HAVANA (AP) — The government-controlled press here and Soviet news outlets charged in rather similar terms today that U.S. Navy patrols in the Caribbean are an intervention in Latin-American affairs, a threat to world peace and a smokescreen for attacking Cuba.

President Eisenhower Thursday ordered U.S. warships and planes to be ready to seek out and prevent Communist-led attacks from abroad on Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Three Cuban newspapers carried a story by the Soviet news agency Tass warning of invasion plots against Cuba being prepared in Nicaragua and Guatemala.

A Moscow radio broadcast recorded in London asserted the U.S. Navy alert is "fraught with the danger of a military conflict." The broadcast, noting the White House statement that the move was requested by the Guatemalan and Nicaraguan governments, said: "The rotten antipopular regimes of these two countries can exist only with U.S. support."

The semiofficial newspaper Revolucion in Havana ran a huge banner headline saying "U.S. endangers world peace: Yankee military occupation of Nicaragua and Guatemala could be step toward attacking Cuba."

El Mundo's banner said "U.S. intervenes in internal struggles in Guatemala and Nicaragua."

The President acted on the written request of the two governments, targets in the past week of unsuccessful uprisings which they charged were assisted by Cubans.

The action came as plots and possible uprisings were reported in two other countries, Bolivia and El Salvador.

The U.S. State Department said warships, including at least four destroyers and the aircraft carrier Shangri-La, were already patrolling the high seas between Cuba and the Central American coast. The department said, however, that any action against invasion forces would be limited to the three-mile territorial waters of Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Eisenhower's emergency action foreshadowed similar American military help for any other Caribbean nation which might request it.

Top officials said movement of four U.S. destroyers and an aircraft carrier into the area was a blunt warning to Castro that he will not be permitted to export his leftwing revolution to other Latin-American nations.

They acknowledged the President's action carried a step further the existing policy of opposing by words what are regarded as Castro's pro-Communist maneuvers.

They compared it to warships of the 7th Fleet patrolling the waters around Formosa to discourage any Chinese Communist attack.

Instructions to fleet units dispatched into the Caribbean trouble zone, they noted, are not only to prevent but to "seek out" any Communist directed landing of men and supplies on Guatemala and Nicaragua territory.

These orders presumably could be interpreted to allow U.S. warships and planes to smash any invasion ships or supply vessels headed toward either of the two Central American republics.

Two factors were reported to have guided the President and his top advisors in deciding on the move:

1. There seemed to be genuine reasons for fearing that pro-Castro fanatics might follow up this week's unsuccessful revolts in Guatemala and Nicaragua with new, stronger armed attacks.

2. Castro secretly has been smuggling and diverting some of his vast quantities of Communist-made weapons to leftwing groups who are plotting pro-Castro revolts throughout the Caribbean area.

Faced with this information, Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter jointly decided the time had come to act militarily to block Castro.

Kennedy Briefed On Latin Crisis

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy asked for — and is getting — a complete top secret briefing on the tense Caribbean situation which led President Eisenhower to dispatch American warships and planes on an anti-Communist mission.

Kennedy arranged to confer on the matter with Allen W. Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency.

It is known that the president-elect requested Dulles to come to the work-and-vacation headquarters here for the specific purpose of reporting on the worrisome situation in the Caribbean. The session was put on the Kennedy schedule three days ago—about 48 hours in advance of Eisenhower's order to U. S. naval units to defend revolt-threatened Guatemala and Nicaragua against any Communist-led attack.

After the Eisenhower order—issued to the request of Guatemala and Nicaragua—the president-elect was reported to be expecting a detailed briefing from Dulles on the background which brought on the President's action. Kennedy declined comment on the action.

Kennedy returned to Palm Beach late Thursday night after a round of conferences—and several hours of successful deer hunting—with Lyndon B. Johnson, the vice president-elect.

Before leaving Johnson's LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex., Kennedy put out a statement saying they had a profitable discussion of plans and programs for the new administration which will take over from the Republicans Jan. 20.

Johnson and Kennedy plan to meet again for more planning after the vice president-elect returns from a NATO conference in Paris.

Eisenhower's action ordering U.S. warships and planes to defend Guatemala and Nicaragua from any Communist-directed attack amounted to a blunt warning to Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro to keep hands off Latin-American republics.

It also was warning to the Soviet Union against interference in the Western Hemisphere.

As for his talks with Johnson, Kennedy arrived at the LBJ Ranch Wednesday and he and the vice president-elect conferred then for two hours.

They were up Thursday at 6 a.m., and an hour later drove off 15 miles northeast to an 1,800-acre range which Johnson leases. There for 7½ hours on a raw, cold day with occasional rain they hunted white tail deer and, they reported, each killed two deer.

Kennedy, elated but appearing a bit weary, had done some hunting previously for other game but he said it was his first time out for deer.

500 Attend Funeral for Slain Girl

PAULDING, Ohio (AP) — Some 500 persons attended funeral services at the Church of Christ Thursday for 14-year-old Nancy Eagleson, victim of a rape-slashing Sunday night.

Many of those attending the service in this community of 2,300 persons were the girl's schoolmates at Paulding High School, where she was a freshman.

During the 30 - minute service, Sheriff John L. Keeler directed a squad of police in checking the nearly 100 automobiles of those attending the service. Officers thought the slayer might be drawn to the church.

Plainclothes police attended the church and graveside services.

The girl was within a block of her home Sunday night when her 5-year-old sister, Sheryl, when she was pulled into a car by a motorist. The younger sister fled.

Nancy's body, with a bullet wound in the throat, was found in a wooded area near Junction, Ohio, about seven hours later.

Ohio and Indiana police have rounded up several men for questioning in the case.

Churchill Restless, But Injury Improves

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill had a disturbed night, but his back injury is creating no anxiety, his secretary said today.

In an official bulletin, his secretary said: "Sir Winston has had a rather disturbed night, but his spinal injury is progressing satisfactorily and is giving no anxiety."

Britain's World War II prime minister, who will be 86 on Nov. 30, broke a small bone in his back when he tripped over a rug in his bedroom Tuesday.

GOP Chieftains Shun Recounts

National Chairman's Bid Generally Ignored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders in most of the 11 states where a vote recount was suggested do not plan to challenge the Nov. 8 election results.

When GOP National Chairman Thruston B. Morton proposed the recounts a week ago, he told Republican officials in 11 states to look into "purported vote frauds." He urged investigation and whatever follow-up action was indicated.

A check today with GOP leaders in the states listed by Morton showed:

No recounts are planned in Michigan, South Carolina, Illinois, New Mexico, New Jersey, Pennsylvania or Delaware. Party officials in Nevada and Missouri were awaiting official state canvasses before making a decision. That was also the situation in Minnesota, but any recount move there appeared doubtful. Texas GOP leaders have said they were considering a recount bid, but have taken no action.

Reported voting irregularities were being checked in some of the states.

The reaction of the state leaders came as John F. Kennedy's victory margin was cut further by late counts—making it almost certain that he would end up with less than a majority of all the votes cast.

With 1,549 precincts still out and many absentee ballots still to be counted, Kennedy had 33,869,208 votes to 33,684,561 for Republican Vice President Richard M. Nixon. This gave Kennedy a lead of only 184,647 out of more than 67½ million votes.

Absentee ballots continued to build up Nixon's winning margin in his home state of California. Hundreds of thousands of votes for unpledged presidential electors and minor party candidates will cut further Kennedy's percentage of the national popular vote. Most states will not report votes for splinter parties until the official canvass. The last of these returns will not be in until next month.

Even if Kennedy winds up with less than a majority, he will of course still be the winner—barring an unexpected upset in the electoral vote lineup. His 300 electoral votes are 31 more than the 269 needed for election.

Housewife Indicted In Holdup of Bank

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Pittsburgh housewife was indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on charges of receiving part of the loot from an Akron, Ohio, bank holdup.

The government charges that Mrs. Kathryn M. Evans, 50, received $49,400 of the $62,628 taken in the robbery of the First National Bank of Akron.

Her husband, Joseph 55, was sentenced to 18 years in a federal prison last week for his part in carrying out the holdup. He pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Cleveland. Their 16-year-old son, William, faces federal juvenile charges in the same case. FBI agents say the youth told them his father forced him to take part in the robbery.

Teays Valley Bond Vote Is Challenged

Approval of the $1,760,000 school bond issue in Teays Valley School District has been challenged.

Five residents have called for a recount of the narrow, 1,539 to 1,500 vote approving the issuance of bonds to build a new consolidated high school building.

The recount is set for 7:30 p. m. today in the offices of the Board of Elections.

Five residents of Teays Valley School District have requested a recount of eight of the district's 11 county precincts. Chairman of the committee which requested the recount is Rennie Sowers, Route 2, Ashville, a resident of Walnut East precinct.

Present for the recount will be Elections Board members: Ted Corcoran, Ned Dresbach, Milton Manson and George Fissell; the chairman of the committee demanding the recount, Sowers; and the president of the Teays Valley Board of Education, Harold Hines.

The petitioners did not call for a recount of Walnut East, Walnut West and Ashville West precincts as well as four other overlapping precincts (Circleville Twp., two in Fairfield County, and one in Franklin County).

In those precincts the issue was soundly defeated by a "No" vote of 571-428. The eight challenged precincts, however, gave the issue its 39-vote affirmative edge by a 1,111 to 929 vote.

The precincts to be recounted tonight voted:

Ashville East — 222 yes, 155 no; South Bloomfield — 52 yes, 105 no; Harrison Twp. — 266 yes, 209 no; Madison Twp. — 178 yes, 107 no; Commercial Point — 65 yes, 68 no; Orient — 57 yes, 51 no; Scioto Twp. North — 70 yes, 32 no; Scioto Twp. South — 201 yes, 202 no.

U.S. Farmers Get Warning On Livestock Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—Renewed advice against over-expansion of production of meat animals was going out to farmers from the Agriculture Department today.

State farm economists and educators attending the department's annual outlook conference have been told that producers should be alert to the "serious depressing effect that may be exerted on prices if production continues to outrun population growth."

Earl E. Miller, department livestock economist, said in a talk that cattle prices are expected to decline further next year under pressure of increased marketings. He said however, a bad break in prices is not expected.

"Livestock producers have a great potential for increasing output," Miller said. "They currently have the physical assets of large feed supplies, basic productive stock and other facilities for expanding production. They also have the know-how."

"Relatively favorable prices — which will continue to be the governor as well as the generator for future production—are resulting in increases in the number of meat animals being produced."

"The appraisal points up the possible dangers in the longer-run outlook," he added. "Beef consumption is currently a near-record high and will likely set new highs in the next few years. The effect of increased supplies on prices probably cannot be pinpointed too closely, but the prices depressing effect is certain."

Miller went on to say that the relatively favorable outlook for hogs in 1961 also carries with it a word of caution.

Anti-Red Plan Labeled Prelude To 'Attack'

Opponents To Move Say Invasions Slated On Castro's Island

HAVANA (AP)—The government-controlled press here and Soviet news outlets charged in rather similar terms today that U.S. Navy patrols in the Caribbean are an intervention in Latin-American affairs, a threat to world peace and a smokescreen for attacking Cuba.

President Eisenhower Thursday ordered U.S. warships and planes to be ready to seek out and prevent Communist-led attacks from abroad on Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Three Cuban newspapers carried a story by the Soviet news agency Tass warning of invasion plots against Cuba being prepared in Nicaragua and Guatemala.

A Moscow radio broadcast recorded in London asserted the U.S. Navy alert is "fraught with the danger of a military conflict." The broadcast, noting the White House statement that the move was requested by the Guatemalan and Nicaraguan governments, said: "The rotten antipopular regimes of these two countries can exist only with U.S. support."

The semiofficial newspaper Revolucion in Havana ran a huge banner headline saying "U.S. endangers world peace: Yankee military occupation of Central America could be step toward attacking Cuba."

El Mundo's banner said "U.S. intervenes in internal struggles in Guatemala and Nicaragua."

The President acted on the written request of the two governments, targets in the past week of unsuccessful uprisings which they charged were assisted by Cubans.

The action came as plots and possible uprisings were reported in two other countries, Bolivia and El Salvador.

The U.S. State Department said warships, including at least four destroyers and the aircraft carrier Shangri-La, were already patrolling the high seas between Cuba and the Central American coast. The department said, however, that any action against invasion forces would be limited to the three-mile territorial waters of Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Eisenhower's emergency action foreshadowed similar American military help for any other Caribbean nation which might request it.

Top officials said movement of four U.S. destroyers and an aircraft carrier into the area was a blunt warning to Castro that he will not be permitted to export his leftwing revolution to other Latin-American nations.

They acknowledged that the President's action carried a step further the existing policy of opposing by words what are regarded as Castro's pro-Communist maneuvers.

They compared it to warships of the 7th Fleet patrolling the waters around Formosa to discourage any Chinese Communist attack.

Instructions to fleet units dispatched into the Caribbean trouble zone, they noted, are not only to prevent but to "seek out" any Communist directed landing of men and supplies on Guatemala and Nicaragua territory.

These rovers presumably could be interpreted to allow U.S. warships and planes to smash any invasion ships or supply vessels headed toward either of the two Central American republics.

Two factors were reported to have guided the President and his top advisors in deciding on the move:

1. There seemed to be genuine reasons for fearing that pro-Castro fanatics might follow up this week's unsuccessful revolts in Guatemala and Nicaragua with new, stronger armed attacks.

2. Castro secretly has been smuggling and diverting some of his vast quantities of Communist-made weapons to leftwing groups who are plotting pro-Castro revolts throughout the Caribbean area.

Faced with this information, Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter jointly decided the time had come to act militarily to block Castro.

Kennedy Briefed On Latin Crisis

PALM BEACH Fla. (AP)—

President-elect John F. Kennedy asked for — and is getting — a complete top secret briefing on the tense Caribbean situation which led President Eisenhower to dispatch American warships and planes on an anti-Communist mission.

Kennedy arranged to confer on the matter with Allen W. Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency.

It is known that the president-elect requested Dulles to come to the work-and-vacation headquarters here for the specific purpose of reporting on the worrisome situation in the Caribbean.

The session was put on the Kennedy schedule three days ago—about 48 hours in advance of Eisenhower's order to U. S. naval units to defend revolt-threatened Guatemala and Nicaragua against any Communist-led attack.

After the Eisenhower order—issued to the request of Guatemala and Nicaragua—the president-elect was reported to be expecting a detailed briefing from Dulles on the background which brought on the President's action. Kennedy declined comment on the action.

Kennedy returned to Palm Beach late Thursday night after a round of conferences—and several hours of successful deer hunting—with Lyndon B. Johnson, the vice president-elect.

Before leaving Johnson's LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex., Kennedy put out a statement saying they had a profitable discussion of plans and programs for the new administration which will take over from the Republicans Jan. 20.

Johnson and Kennedy plan to meet again for more planning after the vice president-elect returns from a NATO conference in Paris.

Eisenhower's action ordering U.S. warships and planes to defend Guatemala and Nicaragua from any Communist-directed attack amounted to a blunt warning to Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro to keep hands off Latin-American republics.

It also was warning to the Soviet Union against interference in the Western Hemisphere.

As for his talks with Johnson, Kennedy arrived at the LBJ Ranch Wednesday and he and the vice president-elect conferred then for two hours.

They were up Thursday at 6 a.m., and an hour later drove off 15 miles northeast to an 1,800-acre range which Johnson leases.

There for 7½ hours on a raw, cold day with occasional rain they hunted white tail deer and, they reported, each killed two deer.

Kennedy, elated but appearing a bit weary, had done some hunting previously for other game but he said it was his first time out for deer.

Reported voting irregularities were being checked in some of the states.

The reaction of the state leaders came as John F. Kennedy's victory margin was cut further by late counts—making it almost certain that he would end up with less than a majority of all the votes cast.

With 1,549 precincts still out and many absentee ballots still to be counted, Kennedy had 33,869,208 votes to 33,684,561 for Republican Vice President Richard M. Nixon. This gave Kennedy a lead of only 184,647 out of more than 67½ million votes.

Absentee ballots continued to build up Nixon's winning margin in his home state of California.

Hundreds of thousands of votes for unpledged presidential electors and minor party candidates will cut further Kennedy's percentage of the national popular vote. Most states will not report votes for splinter parties until the official canvass. The last of these returns will not be in until next month.

Even if Kennedy winds up with less than a majority, he will of course still be the winner—barring an unexpected upset in the electoral vote lineup. His 300 electoral votes are 31 more than the 269 needed for election.

GOP Chieftains Shun Recounts

National Chairman's Bid Generally Ignored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican leaders in most of the 11 states where a vote recount was suggested do not plan to challenge the Nov. 8 election results.

When GOP National Chairman Thruston B. Morton proposed the recounts a week ago, he told Republican officials in 11 states to look into "purported vote frauds."

He urged investigation and whatever follow-up action was indicated.

A check today with GOP leaders in the states listed by Morton showed:

No recounts are planned in Michigan, South Carolina, Illinois, New Mexico, New Jersey, Pennsylvania or Delaware. Party officials in Nevada and Missouri were awaiting official state canvasses before making a decision.

That was also the situation in Minnesota, but any recount move there appeared doubtful. Texas GOP leaders have said they were considering a recount bid, but have taken no action.

Reported voting irregularities were being checked in some of the states.

Housewife Indicted In Holdup of Bank
PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Pittsburgh housewife was indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on charges of receiving part of the loot from an Akron, Ohio, bank holdup.

The government charges that Mrs. Kathryn M. Evans, 50, received $49,400 of the $62,628 taken in the robbery of the First National Bank of Akron.

Her husband, Joseph 55, was sentenced to 18 years in a federal prison last week for his part in carrying out the holdup. He pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Cleveland. Their 16-year-old son, William, faces federal juvenile charges in the same case. FBI agents say the youth told them his father forced him to take part in the robbery.

Late Clark Gable a Myth For 3 Decades in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I've never worked hard at being a myth," Clark Gable once said. Yet he was one for the three decades he ruled the film world.

As often happens with men who live their lives in the brilliance of fame, the real Gable was lost in the glare. The myth took over. It was a popular myth, and it blended nicely into the kind of role he played on the screen. But it wasn't Gable.

in hog production for 1961 than now seems likely for a continued increase in 1962, pork supplies per person could again be pushed to the 68-70 pound per capita mark—a level that led to significantly lower hog prices in 1953 and 1959. The danger of overproduction is accentuated by a probable increase in beef and veal.

The farm share of a consumer food dollar may drop next year to the smallest since the depression years of the 1930s.

The Agriculture Department reported today the share this year appears likely to average 38 cents, the same as last year. Next year, it said, may bring a drop of another cent. The share climbed to about 34 cents during World War II. It dipped to 32 cents in the early thirties.

Charges for marketing farm products are expected to go up again next year, but the increase may be small. Marketing charges for farm products increased more slowly in 1959 and 1960 than in the preceding two years. The average for this year may be about one per cent.

The department said hourly earnings of food marketing employees continued upward in 1960, but improvements in productivity probably kept unit labor costs from rising as much as hourly earnings.

The Department has set aside 33 million pounds of surplus butter for domestic distribution.

The butter, which first must be packaged in one-pound prints, will be donated to the states for distribution among relief clients.

about 5 per cent, compared with 8 per cent in 1958.

"Thus any bill adopted now at an emergency session with a 6 per cent trigger clause would be a futile gesture," Cloud asserted.

"Will you then propose that, if the trigger clause approach is used, the trigger rate is established at 5 per cent or less?" Cloud asked.

The present minority leader, slated to become majority leader in the forthcoming Republican-controlled session, estimated that a 13-week extender would cost $10 million through 1961. He said the regular program cost next year approximately $400 million.

Cloud also noted that the unemployment trust fund, to which employees contribute to finance jobless payments, will be about $325 million at the end of this year compared with $685 million at its peak in 1954.

"With these statistics and observations in mind," Cloud wrote, "the question of preserving a sound condition for the trust fund would become one of real concern to legislators if an emergency extension program were adopted."

"The trust funds of neighboring states of Pennsylvania and Michigan have been in a highly precarious position and they have borrowed sums in excess of $100 million from the federal government to fulfill trust fund commitments."

"These are not idle questions of observations, governor, and they are not political. They are simple questions of weight which must be resolved if responsible decisions in this field are to be made."

Cloud's letter followed a three-way telephone conversation last night between himself, DiSalle and Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, Senate minority leader. Cloud said the governor placed the call.

DiSalle told newsmen Thursday that he would be willing to submit to a special session the same extended bill adopted in a 1959 special session "if there is any hope of doing something constructive."

Third Suspect Is Apprehended

Man Is Picked Up At Induction Center

A third man suspected of being involved in a car theft and at least two burglaries in this area Wednesday night was apprehended yesterday at Ft. Hayes, Columbus, as he was taking a physical examination for induction into the U. S. Army.

Nabbed was Frank D. Stevens, 22, Route 1, Lockbourne. Car theft and burglary charges were filed against him today in Circleville Municipal Court.

Also cited into Municipal Court were Ronald Keaton, 18, of 337 E. Franklin St., and Larry Hicks, 19, of 575 Renick Ave. All were charged with stealing a car owned by Merle Greeno, 351 E. Ohio St., and burglarizing Kenny's Market Route 1, Circleville.

Keaton was apprehended early Thursday morning in Amanda by Amanda Police. He was picked up after the stolen car he allegedly was riding in was chased from Tarlton to Oakland by Auxiliary Deputy Sheriff Charles Hanes.

QUESTIONING of Keaton by Deputy Charles Felkey implicated Hicks and Stevens. Hicks was taken into custody here yesterday morning, but Stevens remained at large until his apprehension at Ft. Hayes.

Stevens was picked up by Deputy Felkey and Police Chief Robert Temple who played a "hunch" that the suspect might try entry into the army. Police had been informed earlier that Stevens was trying to enlist.

A call to Ft. Hayes disclosed Stevens was there for an examination. He was picked up later by the lawmen.

In preliminary hearings today, Keaton was held for the Pickaway County Grand Jury under a total of $2,000 bond on three charges. Bond was set at $500 for taking the car and $500 each on accusations of entering Kenny's Market and taking merchandise valued at $30. He also was held in connection with a previous burglary this week in Circleville.

Hicks' bond was set at $1,500 on two charges. He faced two counts of burglary at Kenny's Market and the car theft accusation.

Keaton and Hicks both entered guilty pleas to all the charges against them.

STEVENS also was cited on two charges. Bond was set at $1,500 on the market burglary counts and $2,000 on the car theft accusation. He pleaded innocent to all charges.

Deputy Felkey said Stevens Wednesday had just received final papers clearing his parole from the Mansfield Reformatory where he had been in custody on previous accusations. The burglaries were committed Wednesday night.

The preliminary hearings were conducted by Attorney Joseph W. Adkins, sitting on the bench in the absence of Judge Sterling M. Lamb.

Kennedys Plan Quiet Dinner For Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP)—A small, quiet Thanksgiving dinner at home — plus a birthday celebration — is planned by President-elect John F. Kennedy and his wife. Kennedy will fly here from his Palm Beach, Fla., vacation spot Wednesday to spend the holiday in his Georgetown home.

And the occasion will include celebration three days early of the birthday of his daughter, Caroline. Caroline will be 3 years old Nov. 27.

There was no information from Kennedy aides as to whether any other Kennedys will be on hand for the Thanksgiving dinner.

Originally, the Kennedys had planned to spend Thanksgiving at their Cape Cod home. But, Mrs. Kennedy expects her second child in mid-December and it was felt it would be easier for her to remain in Washington for the holiday.

Mrs. Kennedy has a date with her doctor to have the baby by Caesarian section Dec. 15 in a New York hospital. Her first baby, Caroline, was delivered by Caesarian.

Warmer Trend Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau said most of the Eastern and Central United States can expect warmer than usual weather from mid-November until the middle of December.

However, it said temperatures would be about normal for this time of year over the Southern states and west of the Continental Divide. Below normal temperatures are expected in the Southern Plateau west of the Continental Divide.

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal in the Great Lakes region, Mississippi Valley and Pacific Northwest during the next 30 days. Below normal rainfall is expected over the Southwest, Northern Plains and Middle Atlantic Coast. In other areas normal rainfall is predicted.

Judge Chastises Women on Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—After a jury voted life imprisonment for sex murderer Raymond Clemmons, the court told seven women on the panel: "I can only hope that he will not meet any of you ladies some night in a dark place."

Several of the women left the jury box Wednesday weeping. Superior Court Judge William E. Fox termed it "an extremely bad verdict."

He said 12 years was the average time served by life-termers.

The jury foreman said the panel wasn't convinced the slaying was deliberate. Clemmons admitted abducting coed Nina T. Thoenen, 19, daughter of screen writer Robert T. Thoenen, from a street near Los Angeles City College last July 12. She was strangled with her Capri pants.

Promising Mental Treatment

Psychiatric day hospitals, a relatively new method of treating the mentally ill which permits the patient to spend at least half the day with his family, are receiving wide acclaim in Britain. Started shortly after World War II, the innovation has now spread to 50 institutions.

Behind the idea of part-time psychiatric treatment is the knowledge that most patients react unfavorably to being shut off from their families and friends. Familiar surroundings play an important part in psychiatric readjustment. Thus, the day patient is able to retain his place in the family routine and still receive adequate treatment for his illness.

Most of the day hospitals operate on a 9 to 5 schedule, although they are usually open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. The patient leaves his home in the morning as he normally would going to work, spends the day receiving therapy and returns home in time for supper. There is elimination of stigma to the patient or his family, as no need know there is anything different about the family schedule.

In cases where the patient is capable of continuing to earn his livelihood, the routine is reversed. He goes to the hospital after work, receives his therapy and spends the night there. Other patients go to the hospitals for evening treatments, spending the remainder of their time at home and on the job.

Not all mentally ill persons are able to adapt to day treatment only, nor is it desirable that some patients remain in an environment which contributes to their illnesses. But on the whole the day hospital concept has relieved psychiatrists and hospital facilities of being taxed with patients not requiring full time attention.

Day hospitals are a natural result of the continuing evolution in treatment of mental illness which has removed this category of health care from abominable prisons to humane clinics in less than half a century.

It is a concept of treatment which promises to spread to still wider application.

How to Nurture a Myth

By JOHN KOLESAR
(For Hal Boyle)

The screams that residents of Dorothy, N.J., have heard in the night and those big tracks in the earth they have seen are probably caused just the way the state troopers have said—by Halloween pranksters.

For the Jersey Devil is a monster born and sustained by myth, press-agency and reporters, yea for a good ghost story.

The myth has it that the Jersey Devil was born in 1887 in Estellville, a little community about 15 miles west of Atlantic City and 5 miles east of the hamlet of Dorothy.

Supposedly a Mrs. Leeds was expecting her seventh child, didn't like the prospect, and wished that it would be a devil. When the time came, it was born a devil, and immediately flew up the chimney and out into legend.

Since then, it supposedly has been seen a number of times. What did the devil look like? It was cloven-hoofed, long-tailed, with the head of a collie dog, the face of a horse, the body of a kangaroo, the wings of a bat, half-human, half-animal. Sometimes it had 11 feet and exhaled fire and smoke.

That may be a little difficult to visualize, but you know how eye-witnesses are about these things. So much for the myth.

How about the truth? Prof. Curtis D. MacDougall, of the journalism school at Northwestern University, seems to have the most logical explanation.

He says the Jersey Devil is the concoction of Norman Jefferies, a press agent for C. A. Brandenburg's Museum in Philadelphia in 1906.

MacDougall, in his book on hoaxes, says Jefferies ran across the story of Mrs. Leeds in an old book and decided to use it in a publicity stunt.

Since Jefferies' past stunts put him in low repute with Philadelphia newsmen, he got a story printed in a little South Jersey paper.

The story said a farmer spotted the devil near his barn.

Next thing, reporters descended, plaster casts were made of footprints, prominent South Jersey citizens began stumbling home after encounters with the beast, and women were found in hysterics on lonely roads.

Then Jefferies topped the whole thing by arranging capture of the beast in Hunting Park, Philadelphia, and putting it on exhibition at, by coincidence, the museum.

The museum's customers got only a fleeting glimpse of the beast. They saw a green and white, kangaroo-like animal, with wings. The curtain opened the beast leaped at them and the place cleared out for the next batch of customers.

The beast was a kangaroo—purchased in Buffalo, N.Y.—painted green and white and harnessed with bronze wings. The leap was prompted by a small boy with a stick.

Jefferies himself confessed his part in the whole thing in 1929. But the devil, it seems, is immortal.

By George Sokolsky

Protecting Our Gold

The first order of business after the Election is the dollar. The Eisenhower Administration has not understood the nature of money and got caught in a very tight squeeze when the London gold market ran gold up to $41 an ounce. The legal rate for the United States is $35 an ounce and therefore the rise on the London market meant that there was a sudden purchase of gold as against American dollars. This rise could have readily, had it continued, reduced the value of the dollar tragically.

The question still to be answered is, who was buying this gold? The first assumption was that Soviet Russia was manipulating the gold market to force a devaluation of the dollar—an act which can destroy the economy of the United States. But there is the kind of hearsay which a knowledgeable person would believe as true, to accept it that American firms and American banks were buying gold by international telephone to London, Zurich and Amsterdam as a runaway from the dollar.

It is true that an individual is justified in protecting himself from economic collapse but it is fairly close to a betrayal of the country to take any step at the present time to damage the dollar which is suffering from bad management.

The campaign is over and there is no value in covering up the danger that now exists to our currency. Earmarked gold reserves are not to be counted as belonging to the United States unless the Treasury plans to put an embargo on gold; otherwise, the only gold reserves are what remains to this country after the earmarked gold is deducted.

Therefore, the peril is that if measured realistically and conservatively it is possible that we actually have no gold reserves left. The British have a reserve of more than $3,000,000,000; the West Germans about $6,000,000,000; the Russians $9,800,000,000. If the United States cannot maintain a gold reserve sufficient to uphold the dollar as a hard currency, all Western currencies can collapse. This was one of the reasons why the British came to our rescue between October 20-27. They could not let the American dollar go to pot.

This is the Number One question that faces our government now. It is now sound to wait until January 20 to do something about gold. Something needs to be done now; otherwise, it will not be possible to avoid devaluing the dollar because the dollar will be without even the 25 per cent gold protection guaranteed by law.

Politicians, as a matter of practice, wait until a crisis faces them and then they act. If they succeed in pulling their country out of a bad situation, they are heroes; if they fail, they are cursed. There is not too much time left to play with the dollar. The October 20th rise in gold was a signal. It was like a small coronary thrombosis which often precedes a big steps, he might avoid disaster. If not, the doctors and specialists have to be called in and they are tough guys.

Those who have lived through inflations, as I have, can read the signs of the times. It is interesting, for instance, to note that the people who live on margins, money speculators, stock - brokers, arbitrageurs and such, are selling dollars and buying gold if they can get any. If they can't get gold, they buy Swiss francs or even pounds sterling to protect themselves. That is a bad sign for us and while the so-called experts give alibis for their failure of foresight, those of us who need to record events, must note what is happening. And what is happening is that the dollar's reputation as a hard, strong currency is disappearing.

When Senator Kennedy spoke, during the campaign, about prestige, he failed to deal with the prestige of the dollar. There he had a real argument and one which could be substantiated. Now, he will have to deal with the problem of currency with the full responsibility of the Presidency. Unfortunately, few Americans are currency experts. It is a science which we seem to have missed. The British, Dutch and Swiss are very good at it. Somebody in the Iron Curtain countries seems to be good at it. The Chinese have been exchange experts for centuries. We have long trusted the British to do our thinking on this subject.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It is now possible to reach a tentative conclusion about the real nature of the much talked of split between Peiping and Moscow over the question of peaceful coexistence.

In a word, coexistence is not the central issue. The real argument—never admitted—seems to be over Red China's determination to take Formosa.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has been proclaiming that the great imperialist war with the West predicted by Lenin is not inevitable. The Communist world is now strong enough to deter Western imperialists from waging such a war, and has more to gain through peaceful coexistence—permitting economic and political penetration—than it would through a nuclear war where it too would be left in ruins, the Soviet boss argued.

Chairman Mao Tse-tung of Red China has replied that Lenin was right and that anyone who says differently is guilty of being soft on Western imperialism. Behind Mao's obvious defiance of Moscow lay a whole series of statements by Red Chinese leaders to this general effect:

With 650 million people Red China is best suited of all the powers to survive a global nuclear holocaust. She could lose almost half her people and still be the most populous nation on earth—and the strongest on an earth where all modern industrial nations lay in radiation-poisoned ruins.

But neither Moscow nor Peiping acknowledges that these deeply antagonistic attitudes amount to a disagreement.

Since 1957, when the first signs of a split appeared, the world has wondered what it really meant.

The answer seems to be that coexistence certainly is involved, but that the big, underlying issue is Formosa.

Peiping claims Formosa as a province of China and Moscow fully supports this claim.

But the tipoff comes from Felix Greene, a British businessman who lives in Palo Alto, Calif., and who recently returned from 4½ months in Red China.

Greene reports he found the on the question of Formosa. Red Chinese—including Premier Chou En-lai—absolutely inflexible on the question of Formosa. Greene recorded for television a 30-minute interview with Chou.

The Englishman, a journalist as well as a businessman, said this was a part of a much more hard-boiled attitude in Peiping than he had found on his first visit three years ago.

He told a radio panel that the Chinese Reds will insist upon settling the Formosa question on their terms before even considering taking the Chinese seat in the United Nations. They are aware that a U.N. trusteeship for Formosa has been discussed, and they want no part of it.

Green asserts the Red Chinese won't talk on anything else with the United States until American forces withdraw from Formosa—leaving it open to conquest.

Here is where coexistence enters the picture. Moscow is obligated by the Sino-Soviet Treaty of 1950 to come to Red China's aid in the event of "hostilities from the direction of Japan," meaning America. The United States is committed to the defense of Formosa through its treaty with Nationalist China.

Coexistence with the West would go out the window if Peiping attacked Formosa. In all probability World War III would be on.

If Greene is right, there is little chance for an American "Two China Policy" as suggested by Chester A. Bowles, a foreign policy adviser to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Water Ski Boat Pilot Indicted in Girl's Death
CLEVELAND (AP) — Maurice Mindlin, 21, indicted in the water skiing death of a 17-year-old girl, was expected to be arraigned today on the second-degree manslaughter charge. The indictment, returned Thursday, is believed to be the first such indictment in Ohio.

Mindlin, of Cleveland Heights, was towing Carol Gilenko of South Euclid at 10:30 one night last summer when an 18-foot cruiser struck the girl, injuring her fatally. Water skiing later than an hour after sunset is forbidden by state law. The accident was on Lake Erie off East 40th Street.

Now that the presidential campaign is over we can get down to the really serious business of life—like guessing who'll make the All-American football team.

Hope that British girl who was ruled too young to collect her football pool winnings has learned her lesson. Kids shouldn't be so foolish as to bet—that's for grown-ups!

In her speech to Parliament, outlining government proposals, Queen Elizabeth promised legislation to keep pubs open later for drinkers. Every toper worthy of the salt in his beer probably toasted her on that.

Promising Mental Treatment

Psychiatric day hospitals, a relatively new method of treating the mentally ill which permits the patient to spend at least half the day with his family, are receiving wide acclaim in Britain. Started shortly after World War II, the innovation has now spread to 50 institutions.

Behind the idea of part-time psychiatric treatment is the knowledge that most patients react unfavorably to being shut off from their families and friends. Familiar surroundings play an important part in psychiatric readjustment. Thus, the day patient is able to retain his place in the family routine and still receive adequate treatment for his illness.

Most of the day hospitals operate on a 9 to 5 schedule, although they are usually open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. The patient leaves his home in the morning as he normally would go to work, spends the day receiving therapy and returns home in time for supper. There is elimination of stigma to the patient or his family, as no need know there is anything different about the family schedule.

In cases where the patient is capable of continuing to earn his livelihood, the routine is reversed. He goes to the hospital after work, receives his therapy and spends the night there. Other patients go to the hospitals for evening treatments, spending the remainder of their time at home and on the job.

Not all mentally ill persons are able to adapt to day treatment only, nor is it desirable that some patients remain in an environment which contributes to their illnesses. But on the whole the day hospital concept has relieved psychiatrists and hospital facilities of being taxed with patients not requiring full time attention.

Day hospitals are a natural result of the continuing evolution in treatment of mental illness which has removed this category of health care from abominable prisons to humane clinics in less than half a century.

It is a concept of treatment which promises to spread to still wider application.

How to Nurture a Myth

By JOHN KOLESAR
(For Hal Boyle)

The screams that residents of Dorothy, N.J., have heard in the night and those big tracks in the earth they have seen are probably caused just the way the state troopers have said—by Halloween pranks.

For the Jersey Devil is a monster born and sustained by myth, press-agency and reporters, yep for a good ghost story.

The myth has it that the Jersey Devil was born in 1887 in Estellville, a little community about 15 miles west of Atlantic City and 5 miles east of the hamlet of Dorothy.

Supposedly a Mrs. Leeds was expecting her seventh child, didn't like the prospect, and wished that it would be a devil. When the time came, it was born a devil, and immediately flew up the chimney and out into legend.

Since then, it supposedly has been seen a number of times.

What did the devil look like? It was cloven-hoofed, long-tailed, with the head of a collie dog, the face of a horse, the body of a kangaroo, the wings of a bat, half-human, half-animal. Sometimes it had 11 feet and exhaled fire and smoke.

That may be a little difficult to visualize, but you know how eyewitnesses are about these things.

So much for the myth. How about the truth? Prof. Curtis D. MacDougall, of the journalism school at Northwestern University, seems to have the most logical explanation.

He says the Jersey Devil is the concoction of Norman Jefferies, a press agent for C. A. Brandenburg's Museum in Philadelphia in 1906.

MacDougall, in his book on hoaxes, says Jefferies ran across the story of Mrs. Leeds in an old book and decided to use it in a publicity stunt.

Since Jefferies' past stunts put him in low repute with Philadelphia newsmen, he got a story printed in a little South Jersey paper.

The story said a farmer spotted

the devil near his barn.

Next thing, reporters descended, plaster casts were made of footprints, prominent South Jersey citizens began stumbling home after encounters with the beast, and women were found in hysterics on lonely roads.

Then Jefferies topped the whole thing by arranging capture of the beast in Hunting Park, Philadelphia, and putting it on exhibition at, by coincidence, the museum.

The museum's customers got only a fleeting glimpse of the beast. They saw a green and white, kangaroo-like animal, with wings. The curtain opened the beast leaped at them and the place cleared out for the next batch of customers.

The beast was a kangaroo—purchased in Buffalo N.Y.—painted green and white and harnessed with bronze wings. The leap was prompted by a small boy with a stick.

Jefferies himself confessed his part in the whole thing in 1929. But the devil, it seems, is immortal.

Protecting Our Gold

The first order of business after the election is the dollar. The Eisenhower Administration has not understood the nature of money and got caught in a very tight squeeze when the London gold market ran gold up to $41 an ounce. The legal rate for the United States is $35 an ounce and therefore the rise on the London market meant that there was a sudden purchase of gold as against American dollars. This rise could have readily, had it continued, reduced the value of the dollar tragically.

The question still to be answered is, who was buying this gold? The first assumption was that Soviet Russia was manipulating the gold market to force a devaluation of the dollar—an act which could destroy the economy of the United States. But there is the kind of hearsay which a knowledgeable person would believe as true, to accept it that American firms and American banks were buying gold by international telephone to London, Zurich and Amsterdam as a runaway from the dollar.

Therefore, the peril is that if measured realistically and conservatively it is possible that we actually have no gold reserves left. The British have a reserve of more than $3,000,000,000; the West Germans about $6,000,000,000; the Russians $9,800,000,000. If the United States cannot maintain a gold reserve sufficient to uphold the dollar as a hard currency, all Western currencies can collapse. ## The World Today

By JAMES D. WHITE
Former Associated Press
Correspondent in China
(For James Marlow)

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It is now possible to reach a tentative conclusion about the real nature of the much talked of split between Peiping and Moscow over the question of peaceful coexistence.

In a word, coexistence is not the central issue. The real argument—never admitted—seems to be over Red China's determination to take Formosa.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has been proclaiming that the great imperialist war with the West predicted by Lenin is not inevitable. The Communist world is now strong enough to deter Western imperialists from waging such a war, and has more to gain through peaceful coexistence—permitting economic and political penetration—than it would through a nuclear war where it too would be left in ruins, the Soviet boss argued.

Chairman Mao Tse-tung of Red China has replied that Lenin was right and that anyone who says differently is guilty of being soft on Western imperialism. Behind Mao's obvious defiance of Moscow lay a whole series of statements by Red Chinese leaders to this general effect:

With 650 million people Red China is best suited of all the powers to survive a global nuclear holocaust. She could lose almost half her people and still be the most populous nation on earth—and the strongest on an earth where all modern industrial nations lay in radiation-poisoned ruins.

But neither Moscow nor Peiping acknowledges that these deeply antagonistic attitudes amount to a disagreement.

Since 1957, when the first signs of a split appeared, the world has wondered what it really meant. The answer seems to be that coexistence certainly is involved, but that the big, underlying issue is Formosa.

Peiping claims Formosa as a province of China and Moscow fully supports this claim. But the tipoff comes from Felix Greene, a British businessman who lives in Palo Alto, Calif., and who recently returned from 4½ months in Red China.

Greene reports he found the on the question of Formosa. Red Chinese—including Premier Chou En-lai—absolutely inflexible on the question of Formosa. Greene recorded for television a 30-minute interview with Chou. The Englishman, a journalist as well as a businessman, said this was a part of a much more hard-boiled attitude in Peiping than he had found on his first visit three years ago.

He told a radio panel that the Chinese Reds will insist upon settling the Formosa question on their terms before even considering taking the Chinese seat in the United Nations. They are aware that a U.N. trusteeship for Formosa has been discussed, and they want no part of it.

Green asserts the Red Chinese won't talk on anything else with the United States until American forces withdraw from Formosa—leaving it open to conquest.

Here is where coexistence enters the picture. Moscow is obligated by the Sino-Soviet Treaty of 1950 to come to Red China's aid in the event of "hostilities from the direction of Japan," meaning America. The United States is committed to the defense of Formosa through its treaty with Nationalist China.

Coexistence with the West would go out the window if Peiping attacked Formosa. In all probability World War III would be on.

If Greene is right, there is little chance for an American "Two China Policy" as suggested by Chester A. Bowles, a foreign policy adviser to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Thanksgiving Is Subject
Of Pickaway Plains DAR Meet

Thanksgiving was the theme of the Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution meet Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Robert Knode Lockbourne.

Following the Board meeting, Mrs. Richard Hedges, regent, called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Paul Johnson, read excerpts from the president general, Mrs. Doris Pike Whites, message, taken from the November DAR Magazine. In her message Mrs. White said, "This month we will celebrate Thanksgiving Day and our thoughts go back to that little band of Pilgrims who, having braved the dangers of the mighty ocean huddled on the fringe of the bleak and forbidding New England forest. The story of the Pilgrims is a lesson that deserves to be far better known today when there are those in this Republic who would place security and Government planning ahead of freedom, and the free enterprise system."

She concluded her message by saying, "On this Thanksgiving Day let each of us pause and consider these blessings and resolve to do everything in our power to retain our Republic with the freedom guaranteed in Our Constitution and Bill of Rights."

It was announced by the secretary, Miss Betty McCoy, that Mrs. Robert Pickens and Mrs. Austin Dowden, have been accepted as new members.

Mrs. Paul Counts, Good Citizens Chairman, announced that seven schools had been contacted to accept the Good - Citizen Contest and that two seniors would take the test.

Miss Marie Hamilton, the Ways and Means Chairman gave her report.

Miss Hamilton thanked her committee and members who assisted in the D. A. R. booth during the Pumpkin Show.

Mrs. Bales gave a report on the sale of the 50 star flags. She also reported on the Executive meeting of the Pickaway County Women's Association, of which the chapter is a member.

Mrs. Paul Counts, who was in charge of the Historical Display Room during the Pumpkin Show and through October and November, gave a report.

Miss Florence Brown, National Defense Chairman, gave a report on National Defense. Miss Brown said that a United Nations Police Force is urged by United States. "There is an enormous emotional appeal to all of us in wanting to do away with the nuclear bomb. It is the greatest destructive force in the world. But it is no so much the bomb which is wicked — war itself is the real evil."

Miss Brown concluded by saying, "Regardless of the well-known evil of war, so long as the Kremlin is dedicated to world domination, we have no choice whatsoever except to build weapons strong enough to hold them in check."

Mrs. Sterling Poling, read the "First Proclamation", signed by George Washington, in the City of New York, on the third day of October, 1789.

Mrs. Mack presented the paper, "Ancient Ideas of Thanksgiving Still Observed", in the absence of Mrs. William Elm, who was to have been the speaker.

Mrs. Mack, said in her talk that Thanksgiving Day did not originate with the Pilgrim Fathers, but in the time of Moses. There is something in human nature today that seems to revert to the Thanksgiving of ancient times.

The pioneer women of nearly 300 years ago in America had none of the conveniences of the 20th century women in the celebration of Thanksgiving, but they made a brave effort in those days to have their homes in gay array for the great day.

Mrs. Joseph Peters, concluded the program by telling of the early music and hymns used in the early days pertaining to Thanksgiving. One mentioned is "The Old 100 Psalm", which is used in church services.

The Prayer of Thanksgiving was another one mentioned. Mrs. Peters concluded by the favorite which is sung at Thanksgiving Time, "Over the River and through the Woods To Grandfather's House We Go."

Mrs. Hedges announced that the Chapter would meet in the home of Mrs. Clara Bell Hughes, 127 W. High St., at 7:30 p. m. December 20.

Hostesses were Mrs. Knode, Mrs. Harold Borrow, Mrs. Roland Featheringham, Mrs. Harry Speakman, Mrs. Stanley Beckett, Mrs. Chester Rocky, Miss Eliza Plum, Mrs. Clarence Squires, Mrs. William Cromley, Mrs. Robert Graham and Mrs. George Gardner.

Up for Sale

DEAR READERS: On October 5th I ran the following letter:

DEAR ABBY: I am a 55-year-old spinster, and I want to buy me a husband. I am not bad looking. I can give him a car of his own. I want a man between 20 and 40 who doesn't drink. I own 4 houses and a drive-in and have money in the bank. There is nothing wrong with me. He doesn't have to work. I am sick of playing hard to get. I believe in putting all my cards on the table and I want a man who will do the same.

Shower Honors
Mrs. Knecht

Mrs. Larry Knecht, former Joyce Thompson, was honored at a bridal shower last night in the home of Miss Beverly Metcalf, 214 W. Ohio St.

JUST PLAIN LONESOME
Here are some of the replies:
DEAR ABBY: I am 20, a pre-med student, and crave the company of a mature woman. Love is only a state of mind. I know I could truly love a woman with her qualifications.
STUDENT (Madison, Wisc.)

DEAR ABBY: My client is interested in the party who signed herself "Just Plain Lonesome". He is a mature, responsible, 33-year-old citizen who will furnish character references. Please contact this office.

Attorney, San Mateo, Calif.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "JUST PLAIN LONESOME" she can have my husband. He's in his late 30's, likes to sleep, doesn't care for work, would appreciate a car and an allowance, would like to come and go as he pleases with no questions asked, and prefers women who are "not hard to get."

PLAIN FED UP

DEAR ABBY: We are not for sale but we are for rent. There are seven of us who will offer

"LONESOME" companionship at the rate of one per day.
South Norwalk, Conn.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Just Plain Lonesome" that I am her guy. I am also willing to lay all my cards on the table, so—
LET'S DEAL (New Orleans)

DEAR ABBY: I am interested in contacting "Lonesome," but not for the reasons you think. I sell bar and restaurant supplies and would like to sell her some equipment.

The story of the Pilgrims is a lesson that deserves to be far better known today when there are those in this Republic who would place security and Government planning ahead of freedom and the free enterprise system."

She concluded her message by saying, "On This Thanksgiving Day, let each of us pause and consider these blessings and resolve to do everything in our power to retain our Republic with the freedom guaranteed in Our Constitution and Bill of Rights."

It was announced by the secretary, Miss Betty McCoy, that Mrs. Robert Pickens and Mrs. Austin Dowden, have been accepted as new members.

Mrs. Paul Counts, who was in charge of the Historical Display Room during the Pumpkin Show and through October and November, gave a report.

Miss Florence Brown, National Defense Chairman, gave a report on National Defense. Miss Brown said that a United Nations Police Force is urged by United States. "There is an enormous emotional appeal to all of us in wanting to do away with the nuclear bomb. It is the greatest destructive force in the world. But it is no so much the bomb which is wicked — war itself is the real evil."

Miss Brown concluded by saying, "Regardless of the well-known evil of war, so long as the Kremlin is dedicated to world domination, we have no choice whatsoever except to build weapons strong enough to hold them in check."

Mrs. Sterling Poling, read the "First Proclamation", signed by George Washington, in the City of New York, on the third day of October, 1789.

Mrs. Mack presented the paper, "Ancient Ideas of Thanksgiving Still Observed", in the absence of Mrs. William Ulm, who was to have been the speaker.

Mrs. Mack said in her talk that Thanksgiving Day did not originate with the Pilgrim Fathers, but in the time of Moses. There is something in human nature today that seems to revert to the Thanksgiving of ancient times.

The pioneer women of nearly 300 years ago in America had none of the conveniences of the 20th century women in the celebration of Thanksgiving, but they made a brave effort in those days to have their homes in gay array for the great day.

Mrs. Joseph Peters, concluded the program by telling of the early music and hymns used in the early days pertaining to Thanksgiving. One mentioned is "The Old 100 Psalm", which is used in church services.

The Prayer of Thanksgiving was another one mentioned. Mrs. Peters concluded by the favorite which is sung at Thanksgiving Time, "Over the River and through the Woods to Grandfather's House We Go."

Mrs. Hedges announced that the Chapter would meet in the home of Mrs. Clara Bell Hughes, 127 W. High St., at 7:30 p. m. December 20.

Big Outflow Of Gold Still Is Untouched

Ike's Cutback Seen Helping a Little To Curb U.S. Losses

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Every little bit helps. That's the first reaction in financial and business circles to President Eisenhower's moves to stop some of the outward flow of dollars and gold into foreign hands.

But international bankers note that the major part of the outflow is still untouched.

President Eisenhower has told federal agencies to cut their spending abroad for foreign goods and foreign services. He hopes thereby to save as much as a billion dollars a year. This would leave the loss of dollars and gold still running at more than $3 billion a year.

This loss—known technically as the deficit in the balance of payments—has been building up for several years. It has mushroomed in the last three years.

But it wasn't until the sudden rush of Europeans to buy gold on the London free market a month ago because they thought the U.S. dollar wobbly that the American public paid any attention to the drain on the U.S. Treasury.

Its gold hoard now is down to $18 billion from a high of more than $24 billion. The short term dollar holdings of foreigners come to more than $18 billion. Theoretically if they all sought at once to turn their dollar holdings into gold, the Treasury would be stripped bare.

Actually there is no such concerted run on the Treasury either in action or expected. And if one developed, the Treasury would doubtless stop selling gold long before any such assault on the integrity of the dollar could get far.

But the loss of gold can't go on indefinitely—$1.3 billion has left the Treasury's hands since the first of this year. Nor can the United States go on sending $4 billion a year more overseas than it gets back.

That's why the President has taken steps to dramatize the situation by ordering a cutback in government agency spending.

The step marks a sharp turnaround in U.S. policy followed since World War II. For years, the U.S. government has poured billions into foreign aid to rehabilitate war torn allies and to build up underdeveloped nations. Such spending presumably is to continue at about $4 billion a year.

Our exports currently are running about $5 billion a year above our imports—a big spurt in exports coming this year while imports slackened.

But this $5 billion surplus of exports over imports has been overwhelmed by our other forms of

Swami Holds Sunday Rites On Unity of All Religions

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—At first glance the tree-shaded brick building looks much like any of the other houses on the street of comfortable, upper middle-class homes.

But a brass plate on the front door reads "Ramakrishna Vedanta Center," and in the entrance hall hangs a framed poster portraying a large-eyed turbaned man. The caption says "Swami Vivekananda, the Hindu monk of India."

Every Sunday morning a man wearing a yellow robe over a business suit preaches a sermon in a small front parlor just off the hall.

He is Swami Vividishananda who preaches, among other things, the unity of all religions. On the wall are pictures of Buddha, of Christ in a yoga posture, and of the bearded mystic Ramakrishna.

Earlier, downstairs, there was Sunday school.

This is one of 12 such centers in the United States.

Ramakrishna was born in 1836 in Bengal. He became a priest in a Hindu temple and claimed to have had visions of Mohammed and Christ.

Many thought him insane; others venerated him. One of his followers was Narendranath Dutt.

Dutt was with Ramakrishna when the mystic died, in 1886, of cancer of the throat. For the next few years Dutt was one of India's countless wandering monks. He attracted a large following.

In 1893 some of his followers, including three maharajahs, sent him to Chicago to attend a Parliament of Religions at the World's Fair. His speech was a sensation.

Dutt, who had taken the name Vivekananda, now became a wandering monk of a different kind. He went on the lecture circuit. He gave lessons in meditation in New York, where one of his students was actress Sarah Bernhardt.

Then he went back to India and helped lay the groundwork for the Ramakrishna mission, which now operates scores of monasteries, missions, schools, libraries and hospitals there. He died in 1902.

In the United States, the mission concentrates on teaching the Vedas, or Hindu scriptures. It has temples in Hollywood and San Francisco, but most of the centers are in houses like the one here. There are two in New York and others in Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Mo., Providence, R.I., Portland, Ore. and Berkeley and Sacramento, Calif.

Congregations range from about 30 here to 400 in Hollywood. Most of the members come from Christian backgrounds. Some still attend Christian churches.

Mitchell Gets Unwanted Aid in Backfield

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bobby Mitchell fancy stepping of the Cleveland Browns, doesn't think sloppy and frozen gridirons hamper him any more than they do any other runner in the National Football League.

Coach Paul Brown, who apparently thinks otherwise, has rookie Prentice Gault, the hard-hitting halfback from Oklahoma, sharing the backfield assignment this week.

Mitchell is on his way to his best NFL season, and he hopes he will be able to stay in the game no matter what the weather conditions are.

Bobby leads the team in scoring with nine touchdowns for 54 points. His total for all of last season was 60 points. He has an average of 5.1 yards per carry, fourth highest in the NFL.

Brown remarked that Gault is a heavier runner and Mitchell seems to have troubles late in the season. He noted that Bobby's biggest problem seems to be in handling the ball. "Only he can testify that," the coach remarked.

Mitchell agreed that he may not have been gripping the ball tightly enough. Speaking of his two fumbles against the St. Louis Cardinals last Sunday, Bobby said: "I wasn't hit particularly hard, and there was no attempt to knock the ball from my arms."

The left halfback says he likes to carry the ball early in the game.

"Then I'm relaxed. If I don't carry anytime in the first quarter, I'm tense through the whole ball game."

Syracuse May Get Bid On Basis of Battle Against Floridians

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Syracuse's disposition toward playing in a postseason football bowl game, presumably the Liberty or Gotham, will be spelled out tonight by the results of its game against the Miami Hurricanes in the Orange Bowl. The defending national champions, 6-2 this year, have invitations from both bowl committees and have promised a decision after it finishes its season against the Hurricanes.

Memphis State (7-2) plays Mississippi Southern (5-3) in another Friday night game.

There is talk of bowls, conference titles and maybe a national college champion in Saturday's action, the last full Saturday of the 1960 season.

Missouri, ranked first in the current Associated Press poll with a 9-0 record, closes its season against Kansas (6-2-1) as the two battle for the Big Eight title.

The Tigers already have nailed down an Orange Bowl berth since the Jayhawks are banned by the NCAA from postseason play.

What is also in the minds of the Missourians (so much so that Coach Dan Devine says his troops "are becoming nervous") is the fact that a victory almost assures them of staying atop the AP poll, and permanent residency there for the remainder of the season means the national title.

Iowa, ranked second, goes against Notre Dame (1-7). Iowa (7-1) has lost only to Minnesota, and has clinched at least a tie for the Big Ten title.

A Minnesota (7-1) loss to Wisconsin (4-4) would give the Hawkeyes the conference crown and a possible trip to meet Washington's Huskies in the Rose Bowl.

The Huskies (No. 5) have already clinched the Big Five title and will probably make a formal acceptance next week to defend their Bowl title. Saturday they meet Washington State (4-4-1).

Duke (7-1), sixth-ranked, can nail down the Atlantic Coast Conference crown if it beats North Carolina (1-7).

Seventh-ranked Arkansas (7-2) needs only beat Texas Tech to get the host spot in the Cotton Bowl, and at least a share of the Southwest Conference title.

In other games involving the top ranked teams, Auburn (7-1), ranked ninth, meets Florida State while 10th ranked Ohio State (6-2) faces Michigan (5-3). Mississippi, ranked third, and Navy (No. 6) are idle. The Midies are prepping for their big game against Army next week.

Yale (8-0) goes after its first perfect season since 1923 in its finale against Harvard (5-3). This game is televised (1:30 Eastern Standard Time, ABC-TV).

Ohioan Slated To Lose Job With Mint

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of the U.S. Mint says he wouldn't bet one of his new Lincoln pennies against a double eagle gold piece that he will remain as the country's head money-maker.

William H. Brett, mint director and former Cleveland and Alliance, Ohio, bathtub manufacturer, said Wednesday that President-elect John F. Kennedy will probably name a new director, even though Brett's term doesn't expire until July 15, 1964.

Brett turned to the making of coins early in the Eisenhower Administration, and has been serving a five-year term.

"But to all intents and purposes I don't think the five-year term means a thing," Brett told a newsman. "This is an administrative job and a political appointment. Mr. Kennedy is going to be under great pressure to pay off many debts."

Brett quipped, "I seriously question whether he or the new secretary of the treasury will like the color of my eyes. They're blue."

Brett formerly headed Alliance Ware, Inc., in Alliance, Ohio, a firm that made plumbing equipment. The company has since been sold to American Metal Products Co., Detroit.

56 Players Listed For New AL Clubs

NEW YORK (AP)—The beleaguered American League, determined to go through with its plan to expand to 10 teams next year, today made available 56 players to be sold to the two new clubs—Washington and Los Angeles—for an aggregate $4,200,000.

League President Joe Cronin, after awarding the Washington franchise to a 10-man syndicate headed by E.R. Quesada, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, said Thursday night a new club would definitely be placed in Los Angeles.

Hank Greenberg, who had been expected to head an operating syndicate in Los Angeles, bowed out, presumably because of Commissioner Ford Frick's insistence

17 Teams To Wind Up Season on Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio drops the curtain on its collegiate football campaign Saturday with a 12-game program involving 17 of the Buckeye teams.

The big ones are Michigan at Ohio State, the 57th between the ancient rivals, and Southern Illinois at Ohio University where plenty is at stake.

The Athens Bobcats will be after their first 10-game clean season in 55 years, along with the national smaller college championship, in the clash with the Illinois team. The invaders have an 8-1 record, having bowed only to Bowling Green by 27-6.

The Ohio Conference championship will be decided Saturday, too.

Muskingum, only unbeaten team in the 14-college circuit, can wrap it up by beating Mount Union, and Ohio Wesleyan can take second by downing Denison. If Muskingum loses and Wesleyan wins, they split the laurels. If both lose, Muskingum grabs the championship, with Otterbein and Wittenberg, both idle, taking the runner-up spot.

Here's the final day's slate, with the won-lost records of the Ohio teams:

Michigan (5-3) vs Ohio State (6-2), Muskingum (8-0) vs Mount Union (3-5), Wooster (5-3) vs Oberlin (4-3), Denison (6-2) vs Ohio Wesleyan (6-2), Xavier (5-4) vs Villanova, Miami (4-5) vs Cincinnati (4-5), Grove City vs Hiram (6-6-1), Kent State (5-3) vs Dayton (1-8), Southern Illinois (8-1) vs Ohio University (9-0), Southern Connecticut State vs Baldwin-Wallace (4-3-1), Central State (6-2) vs Bluefield, W.Va. and Bowling Green (7-1) vs Texas Western (night).

that "equitable" indemnity be paid to Walter O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers, for damages accrued in his pioneering effort in the West Coast.

Cronin was certain the league would have no difficulty in selecting a suitable group for Los Angeles to round out the 10-team league. The league, after an all-day meeting Thursday, was scheduled to reconvene today. "I know several people who are interested in obtaining a franchise and I expect some of them to be present at the meeting," said Cronin. "We will entertain bids then."

So certain were the American League club owners of playing in Washington and Los Angeles in 1961 that they spelled out a plan to stock each new club with 28 men, from the current 40-man rosters of old clubs.

Each of the eight incumbents was obliged to designate a list of 15 players, seven of whom must have been on the club's active roster last Aug. 31.

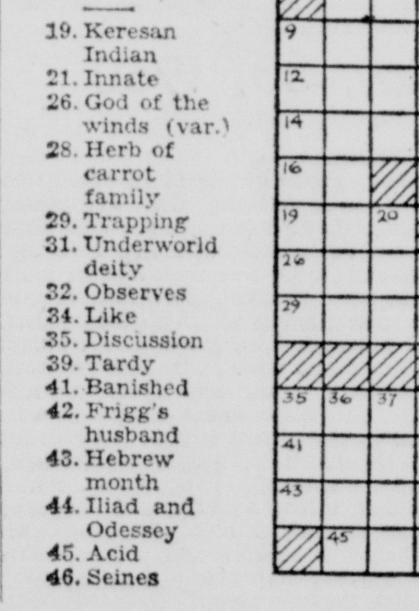

Each club is required to sell seven players, at $75,000 per player. No more than four can be taken from one club by any one of the two new teams. All purchases must be made before midnight, Nov. 20. At the end of the player sale, each of the two new clubs will have purchased 28 players at a cost of $2,100,000.

In addition to the stockpile from its own league, each new club will be permitted to select two minor leaguers at $25,000 each after the completion of the annual minor league draft Nov. 28 at Louisville. Added to this total of 30, eight more may be purchased for $25,000 by each of the newcomers from each of the American league club's farm system. That will give each of the new entries 38 players.

Although speaking in guarded tones, Cronin made it plain his league was angered by what he termed a "sudden change of heart" by Commissioner Frick. "On October 26," Cronin said, "being aware of the commissioner's position declaring Los Angeles and New York open cities, the American League voted to expand to 10 teams in 1961. Now we come here and find that he apparently has changed his position."

Coach's Wife Tells Her Story

Wins or Losses Make No Difference at Home

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—A winning or losing season—they don't make as much difference in the home life of a football coach as you might imagine.

At least, Carolyn Kirby Murray says she's able to take either one in stride.

"You don't think much about whether it's a losing season or a winning season," she says, "you just worry about the next game that's to be played."

Mrs. Murray is the wife of William D. (Bill) Murray, coach of the Duke Blue Devils, whose team is having a winning year and is ranked sixth in the nation. Last year, the Blue Devils had a losing season, including a 50-0 shellacking at the hands of arch-rival North Carolina.

"When you win, Saturday night is much happier than when you lose," she admits, "and Sunday morning is lots of fun—reading about the game in the papers. When Duke loses, the women in the house just stick to the society pages."

How about the coach? "He reacts the same way I do and I feel most coaches do that," she answered. "It's the one ahead that occupies your thoughts and energies. I know people think it gets you down. It really doesn't. Of course, you're disappointed when you lose a game, especially a close one."

And how did she feel when Duke was taking that 50-0 drubbing from North Carolina?

Oh, she said, "it's the close ones that really hurt. It takes longer to talk them out of your system than the ones where you should have stayed in bed that day."

Bell Telephone System Tests Unique Improvement Setup

WHIPPANY, N.J. (AP)—Today in some homes in Morris, Ill., mom can dial on the telephone, hang up, and ring every extension phone in the house to call the family to dinner.

And tonight, if she and dad are going visiting, they can dial a simple series of numbers, and from that moment on every call coming to their home phone will be routed to the house they will visit.

These are just two of the wonders of a telephone system of the future installed today for trial in 50 homes and offices in Morris by the Bell Telephone System.

By 1965, Bell Laboratories officials expect to have the system in production for national use. Eventually 600 Morris users will give this vanguard system its customer trial. Other services to be added at Morris, or eventually to the national system:

A third party, and perhaps others, will be able to dial into an existing telephone conversation.

Fireman Dies on Duty

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Norman Elchert, 21-year-old volunteer fireman from New Riegel, died of a heart attack while fighting a brush fire on a farm west of here Thursday.

The large ears of African elephants serve as fans. The animals keep them constantly in motion on hot days to circulate the air.

Of special interest in homes where teen-agers monopolize the telephone, the system will hold incoming calls with a recorded "please wait" announcement, ringing the busy phone as soon as it is hung up.

Bell officials say the new system can handle any new service that can be logically described.

All of these wonders are handled by a new, super-quick central office that replaces mechanical devices with thousands of transistors and neon-filled tubes, and a photographic electronic memory.

The new central office makes its moves in a matter of micro-seconds, or millionths of a second. There are as many millionths of a second in one minute as there are minutes in about 107 years.

At the heart of the new system is the photographic memory. Its actions are to a large extent set up ahead of time by the instructions in this memory, or book of procedures.

An electronic eye scans the coded instructions on glass photographic plates, learning from these clusters of photographic dots what actions to perform next to complete the call.

If the numbers you dial refer to some specific instruction in the photographic memory, the machine looks up the instruction and handles your call as it was instructed to do.

Family of 4 Wiped Out in Rail Crash

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—A Fremont family of four was killed late Thursday when their car and a Nickel Plate Road freight train collided at a crossing three miles west of here.

Killed were Thomas Gabel, 31; his wife, Joanne, 29, and their daughters, Sharon, 5, and Brenda, 4. The parents were deaf-mutes, but the children had normal speech and hearing.

Sheriff's deputies said Gabel and his wife apparently did not see the train as he drove onto the crossing at Sandusky County Road 12. The car was carried 275 feet along the tracks. The bodies of Gabel and Sharon were found pinned in the wreckage. Mrs. Gabel and Brenda were found lying along the tracks. All were killed instantly.

D. J. Moore of Lima, Ohio, engineer of the train which was bound for Sandusky, said the locomotive's whistle was blowing and its headlights were on as the train approached the crossing. The accident occurred about dusk.

Moore said the train was going about 25 miles an hour when the car suddenly loomed in front of it and there was no time to stop.

Robert Gray of Fremont, who had been hunting in the area, witnessed the crash as he waited by the side of the road for his wife to pick him up.

"I saw that the car wasn't going to make it," he told sheriff's deputies. "I tried to stop the driver by waving at him, but he didn't pay any attention. I know he did not see the train."

Authorities said only two trains a day pass by the crossing. It is protected only by a warning cross-arm.

Children's Book Week Observed at Library

Children's Book Week is being observed at the Pickaway County Library. The observance of Children's Book Week began Monday and will extend through tomorrow. It originally started in 1919 by a group of book publishers to foster greater interest in the reading and publishing of better written and illustrated books for children.

Special posters have been sent to the city schools bearing the words "Hurray for Books" and the classes invited to visit the library. Many new books have been purchased and are on display this week in the children's room of the library. These new books will be circulated beginning Monday.

Elyria Banks Lose High Court Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lorain County Commissioners do not have to deposit active county funds in three Elyria banks, the Ohio Supreme Court has ruled.

In a decision announced Wednesday, the court unanimously affirmed appellate court refusal to compel the deposit.

The Lorain County Savings & Trust Co., Elyria Savings & Trust Co. and Savings Deposit Bank and Trust Co. brought a mandamus action in the appellate court after the commissioners deposited $2.6 million with them and $1.9 million with banks outside Elyria.

The Supreme Court said a writ of mandamus, which enforces performance of a public duty, would not be issued because the Elyria banks had another adequate remedy at law available through a mandatory injunction action.

College Building Starts

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Classroom instruction begins today at Walsh College, a non-resident school for men, which opened Thursday. The school, named for Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of the Youngstown Catholic diocese, enrolled 65 freshmen.

White Youth Placed under Heavy Bond

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—A 19-year-old youth has been placed on $25,000 bond after he pleaded innocent to charges of shooting a Negro American Legionnaire.

Paul McMackin of Ironton has been charged with carrying a concealed weapon and shooting with intent to kill for the incident last Sunday in which James Hale, 52, of Ironton was wounded in the chest. Hale is reported in good condition at a hospital.

McMackin and three companions allegedly drove past a group of 10 Negro legion members standing on an Ironton street corner following a legion breakfast. McMackin is accused of firing a shot into the group, striking Hale.

When Municipal Court Judge Roy L. Henry heard McMackin's plea Wednesday, he ordered McMackin's three companions, who were released earlier, returned to custody and placed under $1,000 bond. The three are Charles Price, 39, of Coal Grove; Jerry Collins, 30, of Ironton, and Bill Carpenter, 23, of Ironton.

Judge Henry revoked a 30-day suspended sentence for assault against McMackin before setting bond and filing a formal accusation. Preliminary hearing has been set for Monday morning.

Ageless Minnies

SUNBURY, Ohio (AP)—It may be merely a coincidence but the name Minnie seems to be synonymous with health and longevity in Sunbury.

CAPITAL GAINS—Washington not only is changing presidents, but landmarks as well. This view from atop the Washington monument shows (lower left) a new addition to the Smithsonian Institution to be called the Museum of History and Technology; a new tunnel (lower middle) being built under the mall to ease crosstown traffic congestion; new House Office Building (upper right) and L-shaped Federal Office Building No. 6 (below House building). Behind the Capitol itself is the city's new sports stadium.

Bell Telephone System Tests Unique Improvement Setup

WHIPPANY, N.J. (AP)—Today in some homes in Morris, Ill., mom can dial on the telephone, hang up, and ring every extension phone in the house to call the family to dinner.

And tonight, if she and dad are going visiting, they can dial a simple series of numbers, and from that moment on every call coming to their home phone will be routed to the house they will visit.

These are just two of the wonders of a telephone system of the future installed today for trial in 50 homes and offices in Morris by the Bell Telephone System.

By 1965, Bell Laboratories officials expect to have the system in production for national use. Eventually 600 Morris users will give this vanguard system its customer trial. Other services to be added at Morris, or eventually to the national system:

A third party, and perhaps others, will be able to dial into an existing telephone conversation.

Fireman Dies on Duty

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Norman Elchert, 21-year-old volunteer fireman from New Riegel, died of a heart attack while fighting a brush fire on a farm west of here Thursday.

The large ears of African elephants serve as fans. The animals keep them constantly in motion on hot days to circulate the air.

Of special interest in homes where teen-agers monopolize the telephone, the system will hold incoming calls with a recorded "please wait" announcement, ringing the busy phone as soon as it is hung up.

Bell officials say the new system can handle any new service that can be logically described.

All of these wonders are handled by a new, super-quick central office that replaces mechanical devices with thousands of transistors and neon-filled tubes, and a photographic electronic memory.

The new central office makes its moves in a matter of micro-seconds, or millionths of a second. There are as many millionths of a second in one minute as there are minutes in about 107 years.

At the heart of the new system is the photographic memory. Its actions are to a large extent set up ahead of time by the instructions in this memory, or book of procedures.

An electronic eye scans the coded instructions on glass photographic plates, learning from these clusters of photographic dots what actions to perform next to complete the call.

If the numbers you dial refer to some specific instruction in the photographic memory, the machine looks up the instruction and handles your call as it was instructed to do.

Family of 4 Wiped Out in Rail Crash

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—A Fremont family of four was killed late Thursday when their car and a Nickel Plate Road freight train collided at a crossing three miles west of here.

Killed were Thomas Gabel, 31; his wife, Joanne, 29, and their daughters, Sharon, 5, and Brenda, 4. The parents were deaf mutes, but the children had normal speech and hearing.

Sheriff's deputies said Gabel and his wife apparently did not see the train as he drove onto the crossing at Sandusky County Road 12. The car was carried 275 feet along the tracks. The bodies of Gabel and Sharon were found pinned in the wreckage. Mrs. Gabel and Brenda were found lying along the tracks. All were killed instantly.

D. J. Moore of Lima, Ohio, engineer of the train which was bound for Sandusky, said the locomotive's whistle was blowing and its headlights were on as the train approached the crossing. The accident occurred about dusk.

Moore said the train was going about 25 miles an hour when the car suddenly loomed in front of it and there was no time to stop.

Robert Gray of Fremont, who had been hunting in the area, witnessed the crash as he waited by the side of the road for his wife to pick him up.

"I saw that the car wasn't going to make it," he told sheriff's deputies. "I tried to stop the driver by waving at him, but he didn't pay any attention. I know he did not see the train."

Authorities said only two trains a day pass by the crossing. It is protected only by a warning cross-arm.

Children's Book Week Observed at Library

Children's Book Week is being observed at the Pickaway County Library. The observance of Children's Book Week began Monday and will extend through tomorrow.

It originally started in 1919 by a group of book publishers to foster greater interest in the reading and publishing of better written and illustrated books for children.

Special posters have been sent to the city schools bearing the words "Hurry for Books" and the classes invited to visit the library.

Many new books have been purchased and are on display this week in the children's room of the library. These new books will be circulated beginning Monday.

Elyria Banks Lose High Court Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lorain County Commissioners do not have to deposit active county funds in three Elyria banks, the Ohio Supreme Court has ruled.

In a decision announced Wednesday, the court unanimously affirmed appellate court refusal to compel the deposit.

The Lorain County Savings & Trust Co., Elyria Savings & Trust Co. and Savings Deposit Bank and Trust Co. brought a mandamus action in the appellate court after the commissioners deposited $2.6 million with them and $1.9 million with banks outside Elyria.

The Supreme Court said a writ of mandamus, which enforces performance of a public duty, would not be issued because the Elyria banks had another adequate remedy at law available through a mandatory injunction action.

College Building Starts

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Classroom instruction begins today at Walsh College, a non-resident school for men, which opened Thursday. The school, named for Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of the Youngstown Catholic diocese, enrolled 65 freshmen.

White Youth Placed under Heavy Bond

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—A 19-year-old youth has been placed on $25,000 bond after he pleaded innocent to charges of shooting a Negro American Legionnaire.

Paul McMackin of Ironton has been charged with carrying a concealed weapon and shooting with intent to kill for the incident last Sunday in which James Hale, 52, of Ironton was wounded in the chest. Hale is reported in good condition at a hospital.

McMackin and three companions allegedly drove past a group of 10 Negro legion members standing on an Ironton street corner following a legion breakfast. McMackin is accused of firing a shot into the group, striking Hale.

When Municipal Court Judge Roy L. Henry heard McMackin's plea Wednesday, he ordered McMackin's three companions, who were released earlier, returned to custody and placed under $1,000 bond. The three are Charles Price, 39, of Coal Grove; Jerry Collins, 30, of Ironton; and Bill Carpenter, 23, of Ironton.

Judge Henry revoked a 30-day suspended sentence for assault against McMackin before setting bond and filing a formal accusation. Preliminary hearing has been set for Monday morning.
